

Regional Manager

Description

As a global development enterprise working towards a world in which people can live in dignity, ICCO Cooperation takes both a business and nonprofit approach to strengthening agricultural systems through partnerships. As Regional Manager for Southeast Asia, you will lead a team across Cambodia, Indonesia, Myanmar and Vietnam, working for food security and economic empowerment of smallholder farmers and small and medium-sized enterprises. You are an entrepreneurial and innovative team leader who is able to create and capture new opportunities and transform them in commercially viable propositions.

About ICCO Cooperation

ICCO Cooperation works towards a world in which people can live in dignity and well-being, a world without poverty and injustice. As a global development enterprise, ICCO takes both a business and nonprofit approach to strengthening agricultural systems through partnerships.

ICCO believes that long-term success can be achieved through programs and investments carried out by enterprising people and organizations. In public-private partnerships, ICCO takes up the role as both co-implementer and advocate. The organization designs, manages and implements programs for inclusive development with focus on inclusive markets, responsible business and nutrition and food security. Gender, climate and the rights of marginalized groups are cross-cutting issues. The cooperation offers brokering services for public-private partnerships, and are experienced in working with a wide range of financial tools.

Now more than 50 years old, ICCO Cooperation has approximately 350 employees and a turnover of approximately €40 million in 2018. It consists of a global office in The Netherlands, and five regional offices in Africa, Asia and Latin America. ICCO is active in a variety of countries through their country representatives including in the USA.
